→ Update on changes to Middle Schooling in the NT

A key recommendation from the review of secondary education is for schools to move away from the middle school model.

The Department of Education and Training can provide the following updates:

- There will be no changes to the current middle school model in 2025, this means there will be no changes for students or families in 2025
- The department recognises the move away from the current model will take time and careful planning
- Changes will take a collaborative effort, following consultation with stakeholders, including students, families, educators, school communities and peak bodies
- Consultation with Darwin region school communities has commenced
- A working group will support the planning and consultation with all affected schools
- A comprehensive plan, including timelines and key actions, will be available in late 2024 and further consultation will occur throughout 2025
- A dedicated webpage will provide regular feedback and updates on progress
- Stakeholders, including students, families, educators, school communities will receive support throughout the transition period.
