

Skills NT Plan 2024-25

Rebuilding the Economy

Minister's Foreword

Growing investment in further education ensures that our vocational education and training (VET) system continues to thrive and meet the needs of Territorians. The Skills NT Plan aims to maximise VET for Territorians to support businesses and industries with a skilled and capable workforce. This plan will help rebuild our economy by equipping Territorians with the skills needed to drive economic growth.

The Northern Territory Government will leverage the National Skills Agreement to expand training opportunities for more Territorians, ensuring they are well-prepared for future workforce demands.

The plan prioritises VET, apprenticeships and traineeships, especially for those in regional and remote areas. The Northern Territory is committed to supporting First Nations people through VET and enriching the lives of individuals and communities across the Territory.

To rebuild the Territory, we need skilled workers. The Northern Territory Government's priority remains securing jobs for Territorians. We are dedicated to ensuring that Territorians can gain employment, upskill or reskill, build their careers, and establish a future here in the Territory.

Jo Hersey
Minister for Education and Training

Rebuilding the economy by supporting a resilient, future-ready workforce across the Territory.

Skilling Priorities

- 1 Rebuilding the economy by supporting a resilient, future-ready workforce across the Territory.
- 2 Continue to collaborate with all Territorians, registered training organisations (RTOs), employers and industry stakeholders, and regional and remote communities to design innovative VET programs that address the Territory's economic needs.
- 3 Support greater access to VET and employment in regional and remote communities.
- 4 Collaborate with and support RTOs across the Territory to maintain a quality, competitive and sustainable training market.
- 5 Strengthen long-term partnerships with VET stakeholders, recognising shared responsibility for advancing the Territory and national skills priorities, while building on past and existing programs.
